

DAILY DRAG KEEPS HUNDREDS TOILING LISTLESSLY WHEN RELIEF IS CLOSE AT HAND

Mrs. Botsford of Park Terrace Has New Ambition Since Taking Super-Tonic.

"Thousands of persons drag along from morning until night without energy or ambition. They are not sick enough to go to bed but they lack the snap and go that makes life worth living." This statement was made yesterday by T. S. Jackson, the Wilder tonic expert at Hindle's Main and State streets store. "How do you expect to have good health if you have weak digestion? The stomach is the most important organ in the body. The way it dissolves and distributes the food determines your health. If food sours and lays in a lump in your stomach every stomach every time you eat, your judgment should tell you that it doesn't do you a particle of good. The great majority of people do not take sufficient time to eat their meals. They give no heed to what foods or combination of foods are good for them. They simply swallow whatever is convenient and pleasant. The stomach tells quickly whenever it is abused through over-eating or drinking. When it warns, take immediate heed of disastrous results are sure to follow. A sick stomach brings on headache, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous disorders and even rheumatism and catarrh if not assisted in time.

"Wilder's (full extract) Dr. Pierce's new treatment that I am introducing here is purely a product of plants, herbs and roots. By its scientific composition it is designed to build strength, create better digestion and revitalize the nervous system through the correction of the stomach, liver and bowels. The testimony of your neighbors all around you proves that it is accomplishing just these things." A typical experience with the famous Wilder treatment came to the attention of Mrs. Jackson the other day.

"Wilder's has worked a big change for the better in my general health. One bottle has proved that it is superior to ordinary medicines," said Mrs. C. M. Botsford of 61 Park Terrace.

"I used to be nervous and tired out all the time. Hardly had the ambition to do my housework. My stomach wasn't any too good and I had trouble sleeping soundly at night. Since I have been taking the Wilder treatment I feel a steady improvement and I believe about two more bottles will be all I'll need. My stomach is digesting what I eat and my appetite is improving. I feel ambitious once more and have lost entirely the old tired feeling. My sleep is sound and my nerves are decidedly better. I am much stronger since taking Wilder's and will be glad to tell anyone how much good it has done me."

Wilder's (full extract) is for sale at both Hindle drug stores, but the health expert is taking the blood pressure and explaining how the medicine should be taken and the results that may be expected from its use at the Main and State streets store only. Advertisement.

J., is held by under bonds of $3,000 by Prosecuting Attorney Ivan L. Morehouse for a hearing in the Stratford town court before Judge Howard M. Curtis, Monday, Nov. 13. Dr. William B. Cogswell, medical examiner of Stratford, in his report to Coroner John J. Phelan today said that death was accidental.

The accident happened at 7 o'clock last evening on Ferry Boulevard. Mrs. Longden and her husband were standing on the south side of the street, preparatory to crossing to the other side to take a car to Bridgeport. The automobile belonging to Mr. Lyman and driven by his chauffeur, coming from Stratford center and on its way to Cheshire, was proceeding at a speed estimated between 20 and 25 miles an hour.

Mrs. Lyman seeing the oncoming trolley started ahead of her husband and ran directly in the path of the automobile. Despite the repeated cries of her husband and many pedestrians who stood by warning her to come back and the driver, who applied both the emergency and foot brakes, the woman apparently confuse, ran directly in front of Lyman's car. The car struck the woman with such force that nearly every bone in the left side of her body was broken, as well as her shoulder and neck. She was rushed to the office of Dr. George F. Lewis, East Broadway, but died within an hour.

The body was removed to the undertaking parlors of Frank L. Curtis, Hudson Place, who later transferred it to the home. Besides her husband, Mrs. Longden is survived by four sons, Charles E., a machinist; Frederick J., Raymond E., a bookkeeper, and Ruell H., a surveyor.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Mr. George H. Smith, aged 21 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith of Stratford, and Miss Amelia Elizabeth Holcomb, aged 21 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Holcomb, of Stratford, on Saturday, Oct. 28. Rev. A. M. Baggett, pastor of the Bethany Mission church, performed the ceremony. Mr. Smith is employed as a clerk and the bride was formerly a bookkeeper.

Fire 17 Shots and Hit Mark Only Once

Poor marksmanship on the part of John and Stephen Demario, two brothers, saved the lives of Angelo Mancuso, of 119 Wakeley street and his companion, Michael Leone, of the same address, yesterday afternoon, in North Washington Ave., near Thompson street, when the brothers fired 17 shots at the two men, only one taking effect.

Leona, with whom the brothers formerly lived, was taken to the Bridgeport hospital with a bullet wound in his heel, Mancuso escaping injury. According to the police the two brothers, both of whom are missing formerly lived with Leona. A week ago he told them to get out, having taken a dislike to them.

They met him yesterday walking on the street and opened fire. Special Officer Matthew Beck, of 1208 North avenue, arrived on the scene to find Leona lying in the street and his friend Mancuso prostrate on the sidewalk while one of the brothers stood clicking a gun which luckily contained only empty shells, at his head. The brothers escaped.

SOCIALISTS ARE ACTIVE.

The Democratic state chairman claimed these late for President Wilson by at least 40,000 plurality, while the Republican chairman placed the Hughes plurality at 25,000.

LIKE A PRAIRIE FIRE THE WILSON SPIRIT SWEEPS THROUGH UNITED STATES

—HON. DAVID I. WALSH

Distinguished Massachusetts Orator Thrills Auditors at the Lyric Theatre With Masterful Arguments in Behalf of the Great Advocate of Peace With Honor.

Real Facts of the Adamson Bill Are Detailed By Spokesman for the Railroad Men—Democrats Wind Up the Campaign With Memorable Rally in the Lyric Theatre.

Two thousand persons rose spontaneously from their seats last night at the Lyric theatre and made the roof rattle with a tremendous cheer for David I. Walsh, former governor of Massachusetts, following one of the most masterly arrangements of the interests behind the senators who have been sent by New England to Washington that has ever been heard in this city.

Men and women stood in front of and atop their seats and yelled their approval of the dynamic oratory of the speaker, who with fact after fact, cleaned after fighting the governor of Massachusetts against the insolent and all-crushing machine of the interests in the lobbies of the capitol, stripped the disguises from the arrogant aristocrats who are controlled by the machine.

With fiery eloquence, sincere statement and a touch of incisive wit, Ex-Governor Walsh aroused the audience to a pitch of enthusiasm that hasn't been seen in this city since the campaign started. The theatre was packed. All the seats were taken and hundreds stood. The great crowd burst out into cheering that half a dozen times could have been heard blocks away, as with force and conviction, the speaker drove home his points.

When he closed, a yell of approval broke forth and it lasted several minutes. Hats were thrown in the air, women danced, old men waved their canes and the other speakers on the stage joined in.

His wit too, brought forth applause. His disposal of "The Terrible Teddy" with a few humorous words was appreciated. The first reference he made to Roosevelt was greeted with a loud "Ha! Ha!"

The ovation he received when he arose to speak prompted him to say: "This reception sounds a little like South Boston."

In opening his address Mr. Walsh paid a tribute to Bridgeport. "I'm glad to be in Bridgeport tonight and to have the opportunity to speak to its people. Bridgeport is one of the few cities in New England that have not yet ended their career of usefulness. The city is showing that life, enthusiasm and spirit are still left in New England to go on with the forward march of progress."

Mr. Walsh said he had just returned from the Middle West; that he had read of prairie fires; how from a single spark they grow into a conflagration that sweeps the countryside. He said the sentiment for Wilson in that section is just like a prairie fire, sweeping over the states. From the abundance of his experience with lobbyists whom he incessantly fought at Boston the former governor launched into an exposition of why New England is not progressive.

"It is the stand-pat Republicanism that has kept New England back," he declared. "Instead of sending the brain and muscle of the communities to Congress, New England has been sending a group of missionaries, of aristocrats, of men whose families have grown rich through the laws they have passed, and whose sole interest is the government of the United States is the dollar and not humanity. They are the champions of every selfish, brutal, financial interest in the United States."

"There is no chance for a young Republican in New England to go higher than councilman unless he gets down on his knees and pays tribute to the New Haven road, the Boston & Maine, the insurance companies, the financial and manufacturing interests."

He mentioned Senator McLean. "McLean stood up in Congress when the Adamson law was being considered and said, 'I represent the people of Connecticut; I want to say for the people of Connecticut that they are opposed to the eight hour day.'"

He referred to Roosevelt as a "distinguished gentleman," and the crowd emitted a derisive laugh. He told how Roosevelt had branded the Republican machine men as porch climbers, thieves, highway robbers, men, manufacturers and as every conceivable kind of wrong-doers, and now he is back in the fold. "And he seems to be quite at home," said Mr. Walsh. "They went through Teddy's pockets and stole the nomination," he said in explaining the reason for Roosevelt's confession of his proteges' guilt.

"He picked out one judge for us, to be made President, and after he was made President, he repudiated him. Now he has picked out another judge for us, and we're not going to wait for Teddy to repudiate him. We'll do it ourselves."

Mr. Walsh closed with the statement that he will fight the pernicious interests in New England with the last breath in his body.

Philo Calhoun was chairman of the meeting. John L. Rowe, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and Lynn W. Wilson addressed the meeting. Mr. Wilson declared that he had never heard such a convincing and clear statement of the conditions he has been fighting for 10 years, since he has been in public life.

Mr. Rowe received much applause when he told the facts of the reason why Wilson declared for the eight hour law. He said that the President had to choose between the interests of a few capitalists, and the interests of 100,000,000 common people and he declared for the latter. The President's action, he said, is the beginning of the extension of the eight hour law to every class of labor in the country.

To Men Who Think!

For weeks your intelligence has been insulted by false statements contained in page advertisements paid for by the Republican National Committee and by members of the Republican Old Guard who waxed fat under a Republican tariff that worked all the time for their Republican pocketbooks and against yours.

These high priests of special privilege are trying to make you forget.

They want you to forget that they themselves were responsible for the Republican panics, the inevitable results of years under Republican tariffs—the panics of 1873, 1893, 1903, 1907, and 1913.

They want you to forget the want, the misery, the despair caused by these Republican panics!

They want you to forget the strikes and lockouts at Homestead, at Paterson, at Lawrence, at Fall River, at Cripple Creek, at Wilkesbarre under Republican rule.

They want you to forget the days when Republican tariffs worked with machine-like precision, when men and women who longed to do right were driven to acts of desperation in order to keep body and soul together.

OR-IF YOU WILL REMEMBER--

They hope by talking of business disaster and unemployment to make you afraid to vote as your conscience and common sense dictate---FOR PRESIDENT WILSON.

But facts knock their misstatements cold.

If there was the slightest danger of a business let-up following the return of peace,

Would Henry Ford,

a Republican and head of an industry employing 45,000 men, be supporting President Wilson?

Would George F. Johnson and H. B. Endicott, of The Endicott-Johnson Company, Republicans and owners of the largest shoe manufactory in the world, be supporting President Wilson?

Would Isador Jacobs,

Independent and President of the California Canneries Company, the largest concern of its kind in America, be supporting President Wilson?

Would F. B. Underwood,

Republican and President of the Erie Railroad, be supporting President Wilson?

Would Thomas A. Edison,

Republican, the world's greatest inventor and employer of thousands of men, be supporting President Wilson? in its November, 1916 issue, say:

Would The Iron Age,

in its 1916, issue, say:

"The pig iron market of the past two weeks is practically without a parallel in the experience of present-day producers. The advances are unprecedented, in being due, not to a clamorous demand for iron for quick shipment, as in all previous excited markets, but to a simultaneous effort of buyers to cover far forward requirements—in many cases through the second half of 1917."
